Water decisions for future due

Canyon is nearing a time for decision on providing adequate water in the future.

"We've been sitting and talking about water and water rights for a couple of years and I don't think we can just talk anymore," Mayor Manly Bryan told commissioners Monday night.

Earlier that day, city manager Glen Metcalf said that by the fiscal year following next, or about 18 months away, the city would have to choose a path among its options.

City officials may choose to try to develop additional wells into the Ogalalla aquifer and to acquire additional water rights.

Or, they may choose to try to tap the deeper Santa Rosa formation for water.

Or, he said, they may choose eventually to try to buy some of the city's water from Amarillo.

City commissioners Monday night got the results from two test holes drilled into the Santa Rosa formation and it was good news and bad news.

The first test hole drilled about 200 feet east of the storage tank at the Umbarger field indicated good water from 650 to 780 feet and an estimated capacity of from 400-600 gallons per minute, engineering consultant Glen Sparkman said.

The other test hole drilled near a creek about 1½ miles west of the farm to market road indicated only 60 feet of water, from 510 to 570 feet.

A third test hole will be completed next week, Metcalf said.

The city's newest wells, drilled this summer, are producing about 420 gallons per minute, Sparkman said.

The water level is dropping three or four feet a year at the well field, he said.

The city is in the first year of a five year water development plan. Water rates were raised last March to give the city more revenue to work with.

The two wells, costing about $120,000, took the major share of the money planned for this year.

A new booster pump at the pump station is needed, Metcalf said, as well as a pump at the well field to increase water pressure.

Monday, Bryan labeled water as the city's number one priority and suggested that the commissioners and engineers determine soon the potential of the Santa Rosa water.

Cities already using Santa Rosa water include Happy and Hereford.

More tax money on its way home

Over $2.5 million dollars in federal revenue sharing funds will be distributed to local governments within Randall County over the next three and three-quarters years.

The $2,512,679 is the estimated total for appropriations to Randall County government, the cities of Canyon and Lake Tanglewood and the portion of Amarillo that lies in Randall County, a spokesman for the Office of Revenue Sharing in Washington said Tuesday.

The new bill was passed in the last days of the Congressional session and was signed last week by President Ford. It extends revenue sharing for three and three-quarters years beyond the December cut-off for the present program.

Of the funds, Randall County government is expected to receive $397,194 during the total period of the bill.

Canyon will get an estimated $375,023 during that time and Lake Tanglewood will be allotted about $3,482. Happy is to get an estimated $1,920.

Amarillo will receive $1,735,060 during the period.

The new bill differs from the present one in a number of ways.

The eight classifications for the use of revenue sharing funds have been eliminated, said Tom Adams in the Texas Governor's office in Washington.

Local governments will be able to use revenue sharing funds just like local funds, he said.

Under the new bill, revenue sharing money can be used to match federal grants, a use that is prohibited in the present bill, Adams said.

The requirements for non-discrimination in use and for citizen participation in deciding the use for revenue sharing has been strengthened.

A requirement in the bill before the Senate-House conference that might have eliminated Randall County from funding got dropped in conference.

Carroll Wilson, administrative assistant to the commissioners court here, was concerned about a provision that limited the funds to governments providing two municipal type services. A strict interpretation of municipal type services could have cut the county out of funds all together, Wilson said.

Funds from the present revenue sharing program have been used to build the city complex and the Randall County courthouse annex in Amarillo.

The funding in the first nine months of the bill will total $4.91 billion.

Then in the next three years, the program will vary from a floor of $6.65 billion to $6.85 billion a year, with the $200,000 difference being tied to a formula within the federal income tax collection, Adams explained.

Dike gives ducks a home

The water caught behind the dike at the south end of Buffalo Lake has already attracted about 2,000 ducks for the winter.

Larry Winn, of the Fish and Wildlife Commission, estimated that the lake now holds about 900 acre feet.

Many varieties of ducks are arriving, Winn said, but so far no geese have been spotted.

Before the lake was drained, more than a million ducks and 80,000 geese wintered at the lake.

Last year there was no water at all in the lake and the wildlife scattered to other smaller ponds and lakes in the area, Winn said.

Buffalo Lake is included in a bill President Gerald Ford has proposed entitled the Bicentennial Land Heritage Act. No congressional action has taken place, however.

If the bill passes, Buffalo Lake could get $1.8 million.

Grant funds still available

Grants to finance research projects this fall are still available, WTSU director of research Dr. David L. Wheeler said this week.

The money, some $20,397.65, was not alloted last spring when grant money is usually awarded, Wheeler said.

He expects to award the money for additional projects within a month, but, he said, the decision on the fate of the Organized Research Committee may influence the timetable.

A decision on the ORC is expected soon. Wheeler has recommended abolishment of the committee, which he contends duplicates the functions of the Killgore Research committee.

The Faculty Council recently recommended the ORC be retained as an advisory committee to give the faculty greater say in the awarding of grants.

The decision will be made by the long-range planning committee, headed by Dr. Ray Malzahn. A meeting date has not been set but Malzahn is compiling agenda items now and expects a meeting to be held soon.

If the ORC is abolished, Wheeler said the grants would probably be awarded faster.

Canyon so lucky, says police chief

Canyon Police Chief Al Stewart was glad to get back to Texas after attending the Police Chief's Association convention in Miami Beach last week.

"We've got it lucky here," he said, "People don't realize."

Stewart said in listening to the heads of other police departments across the country discuss negotiations with labor unions, strikes, and other problems, he realized that Canyon was unusual in its absence of trouble.

Chiefs from four neighboring towns in Connecticut were presently negotiating with the policemens' chapter of the Teamsters Union for new contracts, Stewart said.

And while they were meeting, policemen in two cities went on strike, he said.

Canyon is blessed with a low incidence of crime, he said, even though the crime rate here is rising.

"As long as we keep the violent crimes down, we're still fortunate," Stewart said.

Statistically, crime here has increased 52 percent in the last year, but the figures don't reflect a true picture of crime here since the numbers of incidences are so small, he said.

There have been no murders, homicides, or armed robberies within the city in years. Two rapes have been reported here

Eagles gird for fight with tough Palo Duro

The Canyon High School football team, which is now 3-2 for the season, will face their stiffest test of the year to date when the Eagles meet Amarillo Palo Duro at 7:30 p.m. this Friday in Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

"This is going to be our toughest football game of the year so far," said Coach Deane Wright. "I would say they are the best football team in Amarillo."

The Dons are 4-0-1 for the year. They have played one common opponent with Canyon and that is Hereford which beat the Eagles 20-15. "They played Hereford and I don't know what the exact score is but they beat Hereford and beat them badly."

Wright then goes on and describes Palo Duro like they were something spotted over Mount Olympus.

"Palo Duro is a big strong team. They have a center who weighs 240 pounds and is about 6-4, they have a big fullback who is about 205 pounds, and they have a quarterback who will be starting his third year for them. This kid was with them when they went all the way to the finals two years ago and were beat by one of the teams out of Dallas. He was the starter then and he is an excellent quarterback. He throws the ball well and never loses his cool. They have a good offense.

"Their defense is tremendous. They have not lost a game this year. They have continuously improved with each week and continually gotten better. We are going to have our hands full this week."

Wright expects his team to see a lot of offense from the Dons.

"They run out of the eye with a lot of reverses and things. They have a slot and they also have twin sets with two wide receivers. They have a lot of throwing and a good running game with their fullback."

Canyon's offense is averaging 14 points and 260.2 total yards so far this season.

"We're going to try and improve on what we have been doing this week," said Wright. "We are not going to do anything different.

"We'll add a few wrinkles I guess. Our blocking schemes will be a little bit different but

Park to cost total $376,700

City commissioners approved the plan to develop Southeast Park over a six year period with a total cost of $376,700.

As soon as the environmental study is complete, the application for funding the first phase over the next two years will be submitted to Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, city administrative assistant Kevin Evans explained.

If the grant is approved, the city expects to spend a total of $125,650 over the next two years. Half of the total, or about $62,000 will have to be matched by local funds if the grant is approved.

The first phase of development will include the road to the baseball diamonds, a playground, three unlighted tennis courts, a field for football practice and two practice diamonds, the rest room and concession stands.

The second phase will complete the road around the lake to the bridge, and construct a large picnic pavillion and croquet and shuffleboard courts. Planned cost is $123,100.

In the third phase, estimated at $128,050, the road will be completed around the entire park, the bridge across the lagoon will be built and a bike path will be paved around the lagoon.

A fourth phase is contemplated to add lighting to the tennis courts and ball diamond and street lights around the park, Evans said.

Word is expected on the grant by next March.

County wheat situation "dire"

By BEVERLY McCARLEY

Last Thursday, Congressman Jack Hightower, sent a telegram to President Ford urging that he take action on a letter he and 17 other Congressmen had sent to him three weeks earlier requesting assistance for the nation's wheat producers.

The telegram sent to the President contained the signatures of Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen and 27 members of the House, including 19 Democrats and eight Republicans.

In the telegram Hightower said that the wheat market was "far below the cost of production, 40 percent below prices of a year ago and only three cents above the loan level recommended in the Emergency Farm Bill you vetoed last year."

The Congressman told the President that the White House Congressional Liaison Office had responded to his letter by saying that his request would be called to the personal attention of the President and his agricultural policy advisers and that it would be carefully considered.

The remainder of the telegram explained that farmers, grain elevator operators and bankers had expressed a single message to the offices of the congressmen and representatives — the situation

CHS seniors commended for ranking in the top two percent in the competitive merit scholarship exams are Drew Williams, Janice Williams and Jonathan Hull.

Top students are praised

Three Canyon High seniors were commended by the Merit Scholarship administrators for ranking among the top two percent on the nation-wide competitive exam.

Jonathan Hull, Drew Williams and Janice Williams were notified last week of the honor.

While they will not compete any further for the Merit Scholarships, their names will be sent to colleges and universities for other possible scholarships.

The CHS students have already made plans for college. Hull, who is the son of Mrs. T. G. Hull, Jr., plans to attend the University of Texas to study law.

Janice Williams' plans are still tentative, she said. She will probably go to Texas Tech but she has not decided on a major field. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Williams.

Drew Williams expects to go to Texas A&M to major in either electrical or chemical engineering. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams.

County may build its own part of Loop 335

County commissioners proposed Monday to build their own road to get the south portion of Loop 335 around Amarillo started.

"I think we've got to do something or otherwise we're going to be sitting here ten years from now looking at all the industry up on the north loop," said commissioner John Fulgenzi.

Fulgenzi had introduced the idea by asking if the county could acquire right-of-way and construct a service road to connect Hollywood at Washington to Osage and eventually to Lakeside.

"I think that's the only way we are going to get that road is to make it a county road," commissioner Jim Fletcher said.

County road construction funds are committed for the present budget to build the new road along Sundown Lane servicing the new elementary school being built there.

But there are some remaining right-of-way funds, Judge Woody Pond said.

The commissioners tabled a request to close a road right-of-way within South Amarillo that has been under fence since 1931. The right-of-way lies roughly in an area that would be affected by an extension of SW 58th Street and was dedicated but never used as a street.

Commissioners asked the district attorney's office to advise on the legality of the request and delayed the matter also to check with Amarillo planning.

Joint purchases with Amarillo hit a snag on sheriff's patrol cars, administrative assistant Carroll Wilson reported. Specifications for the patrol cars did not meet the county's needs and, since Amarillo orders cars with police equipment installed, the vehicles were likely to be more expensive. The commissioners approved a motion to call for bids for two patrol cars with trade-ins.

They also authorized Wilson to buy fire extinguishers for the courthouse either jointly with Amarillo or separately. The cost was estimated at $500.

Robert O'Donald, president of the Farm Bureau, presented two petitions with more than 50 signatures and the $500 required by law to request a hearing for a noxious weed district.

Despite dire warnings from Fletcher, the commissioners set a hearing date Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. in the district courtroom.

"This is a tremendous undertaking," Fletcher said. "We should all be aware of the possible lawsuits against the county, neighbor against neighbor. This is going to kill some cotton. It's going to kill some flowers, some home gardens."

O'Donald said that the primary chemical used against bindweed, 2-4-D, is already widely used in the county.

"But not to the extent that it will be used," Fletcher said.

"Anytime you use aerial application you're going to be open to this but many of the chemicals can be used effectively with ground applications", O'Donald said.

An estimated 1100 farmers with 330,000 acres under cultivation in Randall County will be affected. The proposed district would encompass all of the county except the property within city limits, towns or state parks.

The commissioners approved two resolutions calling for an increase in fees charged by county officials for services. The resolutions will be sent to Panhandle, West Texas and Texas Judges' Associations and to legislative leaders.

The commissioners delayed a decision on supporting a federal bill that would mean some $1.8 million for Buffalo Lake.

Fulgenzi said the Bicentennial Land Heritage Act proposed last month by President Gerald Ford sounded like a pork barrel to him.

"We would just be wasting $1.8 million," he said. "If every city and county and state would just exercise restraint."

They tabled decision on support until next Monday.

Near the end of the meeting, the commissioners heard a heated protest by former trucker Robert Sessler, who charged that highway patrols operating within the county were enforcing the weight laws unfairly.

The unfair enforcement was a conspiracy to protect the large truckers and contractors, Sessler said.

He complained that he had been given a traffic ticket in June, 1975 and then after signing the citation, he was arrested again and brought to jail. This was an illegal arrest, Sessler contended.

He said he had complained to Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson, to District Attorney Randall Sherrod, to Sheriff Cliff Longest, and to district judges, the state attorney general and finally to the governor.

He had given specific information of overweight trucks operating within the county on 14 different occasions, Sessler said, and they were not investigated.

One deputy sheriff told him if he wanted the law enforced to enforce it himself, Sessler reported.

Sherrod told the commissioners that he had spent about 12 hours investigating Sessler's complaint and had taken the matter before the grand jury, who found no cause for further action.

Among other things, Sherrod said that records showed that other truckers and construction firms were getting as many overweight citations as anyone.

After considerable time, in which heated exchanges were made between Sessler and Judge Wilson, Sessler and Sherrod and Sessler and commissioners, the court finally asked what he wanted them to do.

"You can either investigate this and do the right thing, or you can face a lawsuit," Sessler replied. "I really don't care which. But I'll sue you for everything you've got."

In other business, the commissioners accepted the resignation of Carroll Wilson as administrative assistant, effective Oct. 15, approved travel pay to the state fair for assistant agriculture agent Paul Sammons and approved the hiring of a new dispatcher for the sheriff's office, Robert C. Alexander.

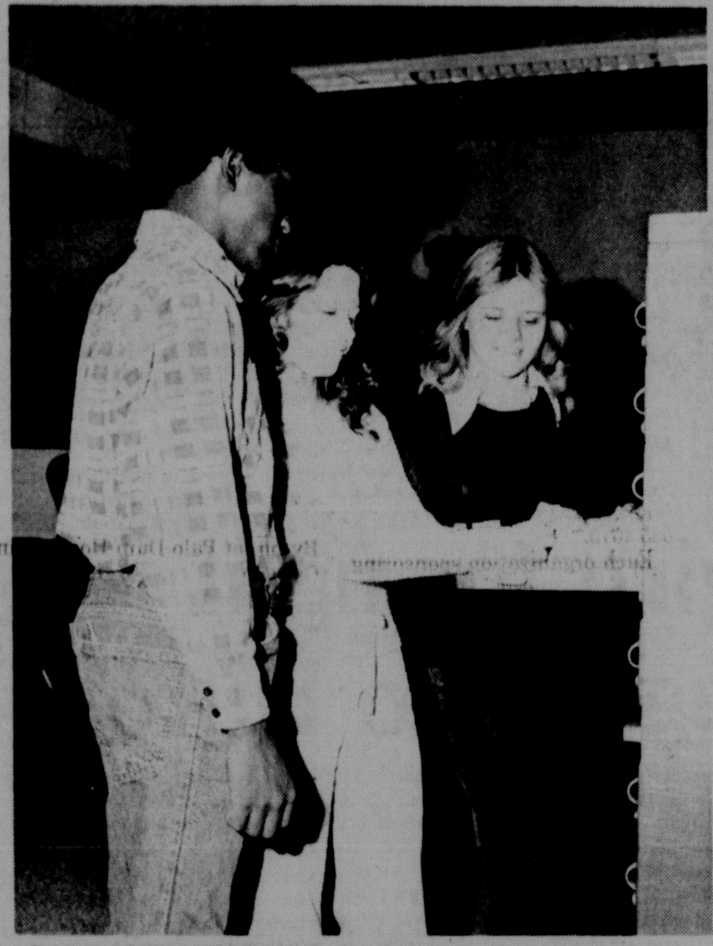
Duck deaths occur

Several hundred ducks have been killed this fall by botulism from ingested bacteria, said Max Traweek, assistant waterfowl biologist.

The same type of botulism occurred last year on lakes with exposed mud flats, he said.

The toxins are not harmful to humans, Traweek said.

Affected ducks have been found in Castro, Palmer and Hartley counties. Landowners, birdwatchers and sportsmen are asked to report sick or dead ducks to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department or to state game warden. Traweek can be reached at 655-3631 in Canyon.



Canyon Junior High student council members Jeff McKay, president; Kim Wilkinson; and Melanie Brooks, vice president look through the card catalogue. The student council will use money from a bake sale to aid the library.

Women to compete at Baylor

The West Texas State women's softball team will compete in the Baylor Tournament this weekend in Waco. It will be the final appearance of the Buffs unless they get invited to the TAIAW Tournament in Nacogdoches on Oct. 14-16.

WT is coming off a slugfest with Texas Tech Monday night. WT defeated the Red Raiders 18-11 behind the hitting of Debbie Webb and the pitching of Belinda Whitson.

Last weekend, the Buffs had troubles at the Texas A&M Tournament. WT lost to Texas A&M in the opening game 10-0, then lost to Stephen F. Austin 4-1. The Buffs defeated St. Mary's 24-0 for their only victory.

Kim Ratliff, coach of the 7-6 Buffs, is looking forward to this weekend's tournament in Waco.

"This is going to be a really tough tournament," Ratliff said. "I think if we continue to hit the ball like we did against Texas Tech, we should be able to do quite well. Against Tech, we were able to keep the ball on the ground instead of popping-up as we had been.

"There are going to be several very good teams in this tournament," she continued. "Teams such as Texas-Arlington, Baylor, Angelo State, Texas Woman's University, and North Texas State will be competing. It could be a very long weekend."

Cross country team to run at ENMU

The West Texas State University cross country team, which placed second in the Lubbock Christian College Invitational last week, will run at the Eastern New Mexico Invitational this Friday.

"We are going to be running against junior colleges in this meet because it is an open meet," said Coach Bob Kitchens.

"I expect the competition to come from New Mexico Junior College. They have a fairly well balanced team. Eastern New Mexico will have a great individual runner in John Kebro, who won the Oklahoma State Invitational last week-end.

"This will be our first five mile course of the year and we have had two good weeks of workout and we expect to run very well.

"We have had a continual success in workouts and expect success in the meets.

"The factor this week will be if we are mentally tough and hang together. I think it is going to be how well we want it. There is going to come a pain barrier and the pain barrier is going to have to be crossed. And when we cross that bridge we are going to be going."

Man charged after chase

An Amarillo man was arrested for multiple traffic violations early Saturday morning after a high-speed chase from the Hereford highway to Washington Street.

A Canyon policeman using radar clocked the man driving 75 in a 55 mph zone about 2 a.m. Saturday. The policeman drove behind him signaling him to stop, according to the report, but, instead, the motorist increased his speed to more than 100 mph, forcing several vehicles off the road.

The fleeing driver turned east on McCormick and then north on Washington. He was stopped by a roadblock of Amarillo policemen.

The 20-year-old man was charged with misdemeanors that included two charges of speeding, illegal changing of lanes, and evading arrest.

WE THINK YOU ARE LOOKING AT US!

In a recent study by a well-known research company it was determined that you, the public wanted to find a family pharmacist whom you could relate to on personal terms. You know, like in years past, where the local pharmacist was someone with whom you could talk.

We try very hard in our pharmacy to maintain just that type of relationship with our customers (we think of you more like friends.) Whoever is on duty filling prescriptions is always available, really wants to say a friendly hello, is ready to answer ethically any questions, and to help in any way that is possible. Come in and see for yourself.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

Harvest time here for beets, maize

By REBA RAEF

GREETINGS FROM UMBARGER. The maize harvest is about to get underway.

According to Vince Ramaekers, manager of the Umbarger Co-op elevator, the samples that have been brought in are a little wet, but the crops should be dry enough to cut in a few days.

The sugar beets are ready, so, between the two crops, everybody is busy.

KEN HENRY WAS home on Monday afternoon. He also ate dinner at Al's on Thursday of last week. If I'd been expecting him, I'd have missed the workshop.

RANDALL COUNTY HOME Demonstration Club Council sponsored several workshops at the Farm Bureau building last Thursday. Mrs. John (Judy) McNeill taught macrame; Mrs. John (Lucille) Robinson taught liquid embroidery; Mrs. Edward (Frances) Flaherty taught rock art; Bynum Morris taught rug making; and Mrs. Paul Corona taught bread dough art.

I intended to sit through a little of all of it. But I barely finished the macrame. The workshop was an excellent one. That bread dough art really got artistic. I didn't realize that it was more than baskets, etc.

Bynum Morris tells me that he is Mrs. Dan's grandson. He is giving the program today at the Sunnyhill Home Demonstration Club meeting at Mrs. Cecil Dougherty's home.

SEVERAL AREA PEOPLE attended the OS roping at Post last week-end. (Some of them even come to their home town roping. Comparisons of times show that Happy has the better roping.)

Roy Thompson won a second in a go-round to bring home $1,500.

Butch Bode of Brenham won the calf roping with a time of 37.61 seconds on three head. Kyle Ditto of Stephenville won second with 40.08. Jim Fuller, formerly of Stephenville, won third with 40.73. Ronnie Seawalt of Chico won fourth with 41.63.

Vicki Henry won the barrel race.

HAPPY COWBOYS DROPPED another ballgame, this time to Sudan 41-0. Sudan had a complete senior team listed in the program with three juniors and one sophomore. They are ranked among the top ten in class B schools.

Happy Wranglers lost their game to Silverton Junior High 20 to 8. Silverton included ninth grade on their junior high team which Happy is unable to do. Our freshmen play with the varsity team. Keep truckin'Cowboys!

AN "EMPTY BOWL Seminar" has been announced to be held in Abilene next Sunday. Anyone promoting skipping meals and meatless meals is grossly misguided and ignorant of many facts.

First of all, you are taking money out of the economy instead of helping anyone. Secondly, brain is made from protein and animal protein in healthy bodies cannot be duplicated by any other product.

Therefore, I believe such movements to be communistic. It is a subject I love to debate. Call me. Or come to see me!

NOW IS THE BEST TIME IN 200 YEARS FOR YOU TO BUY A HOME

A Message for the future — not the past

1. Improvement and advancement in building products.
2. Cooperation of lending institutions very good.
3. An investment opportunity—to build equity and yield valuable tax deductions.
4. More people have gained financial independence through home ownership than any other way. Principal and interest payments remain the same for full term of mortgage; rents go up as cost of living increases.
5. Homeowning families are happier, they have a stronger feeling of belonging to their community, as well as pride of possession and security.

Haunted house for Halloween

A Halloween haunted house will be set up by the music fraternity Kappa Kappa Psi to raise money for a freshman scholarship.

The spook house will be in the upstairs of the old bank building on the northwest corner of the square.

Deadline near for producers using emergency aid program

The last chance is approaching for livestock producers facing financial problems to take advantage of the Emergency Livestock Credit Act of 1974, a temporary Farmers Home Administration program.

Now two years old, the Act provides for emergency financial help to the producer whose business has a good chance of success if it can survive the current liquidity crisis.

"The revised Act now in effect has changes to make it more palatable to both the borrower and lender," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, project leader in farm management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Some of the conditions are as follows:

1. A "line of credit" is permitted, whereas the original Act permitted only a single loan.

2. Anyone with a "substantial operation" in breeding, raising, fattening or marketing is eligible. (This includes one who devotes at least 25 per cent of his time to, derives at least 25 per cent of his income from, or has at least 25 per cent of his capital invested in livestock operation).

3. The Act terminates on Dec. 31, 1976.

4. The loan period can be up to seven years, with possible renewal for three years.

5. The guarantee by the Farmers Home Administration is increased from 80 per cent of the loss to 90 per cent of the loan principal and interest.

6. The line of credit has been increased from the previous $250,000 to $350,000 per loan.

7. Secondary financing of the guaranteed portion of loans may now be made by the Federal Financing Bank, thus increasing the marketability of the securities to the lender.

8. The total authorization under the Act was reduced from $2 billion to $1.5 billion.

Many cattlemen can use this type of financing due to present economic conditions, contends the economist. Therefore, the Emergency Livestock Credit Act should help them protect their operations from financial disaster in the coming months.

Hayenga advises stockmen to contact their local Farmers Home Administration office or their lender for particular details. This must be done before the Act expires on Dec. 31.

Game benefits Heart Fund

Ron Laver and John Newcombe will play a singles and doubles tennis match for the Heart Fund on Nov. 8 at the Amarillo Civic Center.

Winners of a men's singles tournament held this month will appear with the two pros in the doubles match. Then Laver and Newcombe will give a singles exhibition match.

Before the match, they will hold a tennis clinic at the T-Bar-M Racquet Club. All proceeds from the tournament and the exhibition will go to the Heart Fund. Tickets are $6, $10 and $20.

Tax savings on exemptions

A recent Texas Supreme Court decision could save part-time farmers and ranchers many tax dollars, according to an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The court held that farmers and ranchers may qualify for agricultural tax exemptions on farm real estate even though they earn more than half their income from other sources. This ruling will help farm and ranch owners who get incomes from a variety of sources, such as business investments, royalty payments and other jobs, but who spend a majority of their time on the farm or ranch.

Magazine Sales begin

Canyon High juniors opened their annual magazine sale this week with a new twist.

For the first time, phonograph records will be offered.

The sale is held every fall by the junior class to finance the junior-senior prom in the spring and their senior gift to the school next year.

this year, the first in many years.

While violent crimes did decrease slightly nationally, the incidence in other parts of the country is quite high, Stewart said.

"Unless it makes the national news, we don't get a true picture of what's going on in the rest of the country," he said.

Texas is so big that it is difficult for police chiefs to meet regularly and learn what is happening throughout the state, Stewart said. The Panhandle police chiefs are somewhat more familiar with the events in areas other than their own, but even here, because of the distances between cities, it is difficult to form a strong association.

Wheat. . .

is desperate. "Many bankers from agricultural areas have told us that their outstanding loans, primarily to farmers and ranchers, represent 75 percent of their total deposits. They can make no further loans. With anticipated losses facing wheat farmers, a high percentage of these loans must be carried over into next year. Financing for production of next year's crops is unavailable now and there is no assurance of any improvement. Rural communities can expect a reduction of at least 25 percent in total income, which trickles down to every sector of that area's economy.

"Desperate situations require immediate action, Mr. President, and you can provide it. We respectfully urge you to instruct Secretary Butz to adjust the loan level to at least $2.50. This will enable farmers to finance next year's crops and will assure lower food costs to the nation's consumers."

Randall County Agricultural Agent, Bob Robinson said that he believed that a $2.50 loan level would be an asset to farmers and would take the pressure off bankers.

"Locally, the wheat situation is a very dire situation," said Robinson. He said that especially in the South and Southwestern part of the county, the drouth over the past 12 to 14 months, the increase in gas and farm equipment has made it almost impossible for farmers to break even, even at a $3.00 loan level.

Robinson explained that many farmers will or have sold their crops at a loss in order to borrow enough to farm next year. Most farmers operate on borrowed money and bankers cannot continue to meet the capitol demands of all farmers.

There is a tremendous surplus of wheat, according to Robinson, which must be sold as exports. He attributes the abundance of wheat to the 1972 program which took away crop limits and the government encouraging farmers to plant "fence row to fence row."

Robinson said, "I doubt that any agricultural crop or livestock is making a reasonable profit in Randall County today. . . When one part of agriculture suffers, every part suffers."

Bill Nelson, executive secretary of the Texas Wheat Producers Association in Amarillo, said that the action asked for by Congressman Hightower was badly needed.

Nelson explained that, in vetoing the Emergency Farm Bill on May 1, 1975, the President stated that if there were unforeseen decreased in wheat prices, he would direct the secretary of agriculture to increase the price . . . but the President has not acted.

Nelson said that farmers are holding more than half of the wheat crops because prices are at a minimum. He said that the higher loan level would not immediately increase the price of wheat but would allow farmers to pay back loans while still in good credit with their banks.

Nelson said that the impact of the wheat situation is obvious in the fact that the telegram sent to the President was a bi-partisan endeavor.

Local farmer, George Cox feels that the proposed loan level of $2.50 is needed for the farmer to at least break even. He said that farmers are used to holding their wheat after harvest in hopes the price will go up, but the price has been falling.

Cox said that the concept of contracting wheat crops — selling in advance — is a very new idea and most farmers do not understand it. He said that older farmers are used to constants and machinery costs have tripled and seed prices have doubled while the price of wheat has stayed the same.

Douglas Williams, instructor in Ag-Economics at WTSU, said that governmental loan level setting is alright for a short term. But, he said, long term control by the government is no good because the loan level will continue to rise at the request of farmers.

Williams agrees that farmers need relief now because prices are too low. He said that Earl Butz's 1972 program of free enterprise had many interruptions such as the Nixon price freeze on beef and the stop on export of grain. He said that bureaucracy stops free enterprises.

Local sources seem to uphold the action by the Congressman in requesting aid from President Ford on the wheat situation. The local situation is in need of aid, they say.

basically we will be the same as we have been.

"I think we should be better if we get Cliff Adams back. If he is back we will be better in the line. If he is not back then we are going to have the same problems we had last week."

At the helm this week again will be quarterback Ricky Cooper who has completed 22 of 60 passes this year for 373 yards.

Joining Cooper in the backfield will be Gary Ward, who has rushed for 353 yards on 65 carries to date, Joe Luquette, who has totalled 151 yards on 26 tries and John Hull, who has gained 130 yards in 34 carries.

Also expected to see action in the backfield are David McKay, who has gained 174 yards on 33 carries this year and Robert Scott who has totalled 104 yards on 18 carries.

The Eagles passing game will be hindered once more this week with the absence of John Pratter, the Eagles big tight end, who has caught 4 passes for 84 yards in two games this season.

Matt Madewell has caught 3 Cooper passes for 77 yards and Ward and Luquette, in addition to their running, have caught 7 passes for 140 yards and 4 passes for 31 yards respectively.

Defensively the Eagles have allowed opponents an average of 12.4 points and 211 total yards per contest.

consultant, told the commissioners that one of the two test holes for water into the Santa Rosa formation looked promising. The second hole indicated only 60 feet of good water, he said.

The city's latest two wells, drilled this summer in the Umbarger field, are pumping about 420 gallons a minute, Sparkman said.

Canyon's fire department training school is now larger than 50 percent of the schools in the nation, Fire Chief Jack Jennings and Assistant Chief Joe Rice reported to the commissioners.

This year, there were 567 students participating from 49 cities including Austin, Abilene, Wichita Falls and College Station.

For training, they burned 1,200 gallons of donated propane, 6,000 gallons of fuel oil collected over the year, and 300 gallons of gasoline. They also used 54 pieces of breathing apparatus and 3,700 feet of fire hose.

A new course in ladder techniques was added to the school this year.

"That's a dry subject no matter how it's presented so it is neglected by fire departments," Rice said. The class was well received, he said.

A breathing apparatus course was improved this year by a four-room house donated by the school board when a lot was cleared for tennis courts.

The house is filled with non-toxic smoke and provides a realistic training ground, Rice said.

Rice also gave statistics for the first seven months of the year on fire calls in the county.

Canyon answered 94 calls from Jan. 1 through July 31. Of these, they were assisted by Amarillo 29 times.

Happy had 17 fire calls, Umbarger had 12, Bushland 1 and Lake Tanglewood 5 for a total of

Simple surgery not so simple

By
JO FULKERSON

APOLOGIES TO THOSE who have watched for this column lately and have not seen it appear.

What have I been doing instead? Any number of things — important or not, it seems that the last of those summer vegetables needed to be canned, that visit with the relatives had to be made, etc. I'm sorry.

WE ARE SO pleased that Dudley Collins has returned from Houston, recuperated to the point that he is back in school and seems to be doing real good.

However, Mother Elaine Collins was not so fortunate. She had accompanied Dudley to Houston and while there developed severe tonsilitis and she was operated on not once, but twice while there from complications arising from this tonsilitis. She was in the hospital 26 days and couldn't eat for many of these days. She lost almost 50 lbs. and came home quite weak and will have to be quite careful to build herself back up the next few weeks and months.

Husband, Jack, and sons, Dudley and Dwayne, are going to see to that. Welcome Home Collins family.

MRS. C. W. McQueary paid a short visit with the Mike McQuearys and all the rest of the McQueary family here at Siesta recently. She was accompanied by Lou Ann Altazer, Mike's sister, on her way to their Mineral Wells, Texas, permanent home, and then to return to their temporary home in Italy. They will perhaps be on their way shortly to Libya, Africa, for one year.

SYMPATHIES ARE EXTENDED to Mrs. Daniel Hollifield because of the death of her brother, Albert Smith, of Ohio. Sylvia flew to the funeral to be with the family.

About the same time Dan learned that his mother was being hospitalized for eye surgery. Everything seems to be back to normal at this household again.

CONGRATULATIONS TO ROYCE and Doris McKee on the acquisition of their new home in the Siesta Subdivision.

Doris said she has managed a path through, but there is a lot more settling-in to do before she is completely happy with the move. The new home has lots more room, many more conveniences and she is just plain thrilled. Of course she is, and we are proud of it for her.

MR. AND MRS. Joe Carlton, 109 Siesta Lane, were participants in a family get-together at the Palo Duro Canyon Sunday, Oct. 3.

The Joe Wards, the Tetty family, Ann Hulis, and the Joe Carltons were among others who gathered from around Pampa and the New Mexico area to be together that day. Mrs. Carlton said that the wind was merciful most of the afternoon, but sort of gusty at times. The sun was out and the day was very nice, however.

By the way, I saw Oleta sitting on her patio the other day working on her bicentennial afghan. She brought it up to the office to show me and several other ladies. It was beautiful. This is the second time that I have seen her work and each has been as pretty as the other.

EDWARD REED, FROM Bedias, Texas, visited with Pat and Tex Reed for about two weeks recently. Pat said they ate out once in a while and did other fun things while he was here.

By the way, Pat, along with Pearl West and Mrs. H. A. Stancil, plan a trip to Perryton Tuesday, Oct. 5, just to have lunch at the country club, and have a short visit with friends. Sounds like fun.

In a way, I envy Mrs. Stancil. I have heard of days with Pat and Pearl and I guarantee you, you'd never experience a dull moment.

TOM AND GARY Fulkerson just returned a few days ago from visiting with family in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas. They thoroughly enjoyed the drive down and back and said the weather there was very nice, although it was rather humid.

Since Gary had been in Germany for two years, he had not seen his grandparents in that length of time, and got to see both "sets".

I FEEL LIKE a good luck charm occasionally. By that remark, I mean we went to watch West Texas State soccer team play a New Mexico team. West Texas won their first game of the season 3-1. This was a week-end ago.

Ken Weber and wife, Jeri (our son-in-law and daughter) parked the Janna Baby with us and went to Dallas to help West Texas in their soccer game against a Dallas team and also to Fort Worth to play there. WT lost both games, but Ken said they were good games, and the fun and good company on the way down and back made the trip worthwhile. Wish they could have had another good luck charm with them. We are very proud of the team, anyway, and its player-coach, Dave.

WE ARE ALSO proud of CHS for their win last Friday night. Onward and upward, Eagles.

HAVE A REAL fine week, full of good neighborliness, and pass it on. Did you know that kindness is contageous?

Dusting an antique crock previous to the Harvest Home Tour is Janet Craig, whose home ten miles south of Canyon, will be included on the Harvest Home Tour. The crock is originally from Wheeling, West Virginia.

Dr. Cox to speak here

Dr. Harvey Cox, Harvard University Divinity School professor, is the United Campus Ministry speaker at West Texas State University here, Oct. 21.

Dr. Cox lectures on "Religion in America, 1976" at 8:00 p.m. in the Activities Center Ballroom at the University, which is open to the public.

The area clergy, university faculty and students meet with special guests for dinner at 5:00 p.m. on that date in the new parish hall of St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church for a special presentation by Dr. Cox.

Dr. Cox is an American Baptist clergyman best known for his book "The Secular City" (1965). Dr. Cox is also author of "On Not Leaving It to the Snake" (1965), "The Feast of Fools" (1969), and "The Seduction of the Spirit" (1973), among others.

Dr. Cox is the Victor S. Thomas Professor of Divinity at Harvard and has served on the faculty of Obelin College and the Andover-Newton Theological School.

The United Campus Ministry is a cooperative ecumenical ministry of six denominations (Disciple of Christ, Episcopal, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic, and United Methodist) to the West Texas State campus community.

WT orator wins tourney

Jay Kirkman, a junior at West Texas State University from Amarillo, placed first in oratory and won the Ruth Proctor Award for outstanding orator at the recent Oklahoma Christian College Forensics Tournament in Oklahoma City.

Forming the debate team which took fourth in the tournament was Kirkman and Kenneth Parr, Portland, Ore. junior.

The two debaters won the six preliminary rounds and beat the team from Wichita State University in the octifinal round. A team from the University of Texas at Arlington defeated the team in the quarter-final round.

Participating in the meet were debate teams from 48 colleges and universities from 10 states.

Guy Paul Yates, assistant professor of speech and theatre, is sponsor for the team.

Craig's country home on tour

The gracious country home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Craig will be among those opened for visitors next Sunday afternoon, Oct. 10, during the University Study Club's annual Harvest Home Tour.

Located ten miles South of Canyon and approximately ¼ mile west at Ralph Switch, the Craig home will be open from 2-6 p.m. during the tour. Local and area residents are invited to participate in the guided tour of four local homes and may purchase tour tickets at $1 per person at any of the homes.

The tour tickets entitle home tour participants to visit each of the four homes on the tour that afternoon. In addition to the Craig home, south of the city, other local homes included on the tour will be the Elton Cox home at 1411 Creekmere, the Bill Piehl home at #25 Country Club Drive and the Edwin Low home at 3302 Linda Lane.

A "kitchen" filled with baked goods, gift items and various crafts will also be open during the home tour at the Cox home, 1411 Creekmere. The "country kitchen" will be the second such effort by the federated clubwomen.

Funds raised by the overall project will go to help numerous community benefits according to general home tour chairman, Annette Lippold. Special project to receive aid from the funds this year will be the heart monitor being sought for Palo Duro Hospital.

History will surround home tour guests as they arrive at the Craig home, south of the city. The home, moved to its present site in 1903, was built by Jimmy Craig's grandparents and underwent a partial remodelling in 1951.

In 1975, Jimmy Craig, who is in the cattle business, and his wife, the former Janet Wheeler, undertook a major remodelling of the home. The remodelling included the installation of a new foundation and a move of the original house some 20 feet to the south in order to build on a large utility room and retain two seventy year old trees at the homesite.

The Craigs, who have lived in the house since 1970, did a majority of the recent home remodelling themselves. They have a daughter, Cindy, 16, who is a sophomore student at Happy High School and an 18 month old son, John Ross.

Surrounded by an expansive lawn of green grass and shaded by tall trees, the Craig home features outdoor balconies on the West and South sides.

The interior captures the spacious outdoor feel with grass green carpeting throughout and fresh lime green and gold accents in the all white kitchen area. A feel of fresh country air is further enhanced with picture windows in most rooms of the home. The windows were specially built for the home during the remodelling phase and have been kept open and free with sheer curtains.

The winding staircase and overhead balcony railings lend a graciousness to the Craig home which is further enhanced by the Cathedral ceiling in the living room. The expansiveness of the living room is complemented with a grouping of five chandeliers and an antique styled fireplace.

Adjacent the living room is the dining area, kitchen and utility room which feature snow white cabinetry and lime green countertops. Flooring tile in the kitchen picks up the lime green color scheme with highlights of gold.

The three bedroom home is decorated with original paintings by his mother, Opal Craig. Upstairs are two bedrooms with a bath and balcony study. The master bedroom, downstairs, has a spacious bath with corner dressing table and built-in display shelving.

Conducting tours at the Craig home will be a group of University Study Club members including Mary Ann Keeling, chairman, Shirley White, Wanda Damon, Margaret Tenorio and Ann Begert.

Buffs meet Cougars in Houston Astrodome

West Texas State University's Buffaloes, ever so close to an undefeated record, take a giant leap forward Saturday night when they meet the University of Houston Cougars in the Astrodome.

The Buffs, owners of a 1-2 record after their second straight narrow loss last week-end, will be meeting what must be one of the biggest surprise teams in the nation in the Cougars. In its first year of competition in the Southwest Conference, Houston has already beaten Baylor and Texas A&M to lead the league. UH was only 2-8 last year.

"I think they are an outstanding team," Buff coach Gene Mayfield understates. "In fact, they have an excellent chance to win the Southwest Conference. I guess that it is unfortunate that they have come up with such an outstanding team this year, from our point of view."

Houston does have some outstanding individuals. Fullback John Housman is already one of the top ten rushers in school history, defensive tackle Wilson Whitley is being touted for the Outland and Lombardi awards, and quarterback Danny Davis was the SWC's offensive player of the week for his three touchdown passes against A&M.

For the record, Houston beat Baylor 23-5 and Texas A&M 21-10, sandwiched around a 49-14 loss at Florida. West Texas opened its season with a 14-12 Valley win over Wichita State, but has sustained road losses at Southern Illinois (21-17) and U. T. Arlington (23-21) the past two weeks.

But in the UTA loss, the Buffs finally got their passing attack in gear, and it almost pulled out a big comeback win. Quarterback Tully Blanchard, bad-rapped throughout his career as a poor passer, hit on 11 of 22 attempts for 201 yards. Six of the completions for 120 yards went to sophomore split end Scott Wiley, and Blanchard hit flanker Bill Delaney for a 25-yard TD late in the game.

"Tully did have a very good night," Mayfield adds. "I think two passes were dropped and he purposely overthrew a couple more. I think it substantiates what I've been saying all along: Tully can throw the ball where it needs to be if we give him enough time."

The main problem with WTSU, however, is the one on defense. UTA gained 462 yards in total offense, and the Buffs will need major improvement to hold down the explosive Cougars.

"We've run out of personnel changes we could make," Mayfield says. "We've just got to get better with what we've got."

Following WT's visit to the 'Dome, the Buffs will host North Texas State at Kimbrough Stadium on Oct. 16. Houston will return to SWC action with an afternoon game at SMU.

WT's homecoming plans have begun

Preparations continue for West Texas State University's Homecoming celebrations Oct. 28-30.

An honor corps of four outstanding women associated with the university have been invited to serve as parade marshals for the Homecoming parade.

Escorted in a car driven by Dr. Lloyd Watkins, university president, the corps will lead the parade beginning at 10 a.m., Oct. 30.

Campus organizations entering the parade are Sigma Nu fraternity, Texas Nursing Students Association, El Chicano Club, Baptist Student Union, cheerleaders, Song Girls, Scribes Honor Society, Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Chi Omega sorority and the ROTC Color Guard.

Off-campus organizations will include the Caprock High School Marine Corps Junior ROTC, Will Rogers Range Riders, Booker High School Band, Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, Khiva Shrine Cycle Escort, Canyon High School Band, the Canyon Fire Department, Tascosa High School Navy Junior ROTC and McDonalds.

Other area parade entries are Diana's Dance Studio of Borger, Texas Panhandle Chapter of the Model A Ford Club, Canyon Noon Lions Club, Golden Spread Regional Group of Early V-8 Club of America and the Fort Sill, Okla. Color Guard.

Deadline for float entries will be Oct. 15. Three trophies will be awarded to the winning floats and the best overall float will be displayed at the stadium during the game. Interested organizations should contact Lt. Col. Charles Laakso at 656-3956.

Other activities also being developed are the bonfire on Oct. 28, the carnival on Oct. 29 and the barbecue preceding the Oct. 30 football game between the Buffs and McNeese State.

A Homecoming queen will be elected by WTSU students Oct. 26 and 27 and presented at the bonfire and during halftime ceremonies at the football game.

BSU has special events set for WT Homecoming

Baptist Student Union exes of West Texas State University will have several special activities occurring during Homecoming Week-end at the university this year.

Adding to the homecoming activities for BSU exes will be a coffee and doughnut get-together at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 30 in the Baptist Student Center and the 10 a.m. parade will be passing by the BSU building on Fourth Avenue.

BSU exes who wish to sit as a group at the homecoming game that afternoon may order tickets for the BSU section before Oct. 23. Tickets are $5 and should be arranged for through the BSU for the special section.

A BSU business meeting will be held following the game at 6 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Canyon. Exes will be discussing the interest in forming a BSU Alumni Association and Mike Miller, the BSU president from 1967-68, will chair the meeting.

A dinner for BSU exes will be served at 7:30 p.m. that evening at the Baptist Student Center with tickets costing $1. Entertainment for the dinner will include testimonies by both exes and present BSU students. For reservations and further information about BSU homecoming plans contact the BSU at 655-7705 or write the Alumni Activities Chairman: Beverly Jacobs, WT BSU, Box 815, WT Station, Canyon, Texas 79016.

Have you painted an airplane?

By
FARRIS ANN MORRISON

HOPE YOU ALL enjoyed the long week-end.

I finally got caught up on everything and was put to work painting . . . . an airplane. If I could have had an overhaul like that when I was thirty; well, the 140 looks brand new and I'm glad I had a hand in the make-over. So went the week-end.

Water decisions for future due

Canyon is nearing a time for decision on providing adequate water in the future.

"We've been sitting and talking about water and water rights for a couple of years and I don't think we can just talk anymore," Mayor Manly Bryan told commissioners Monday night.

Earlier that day, city manager Glen Metcalf said that by the fiscal year following next, or about 18 months away, the city would have to choose a path among its options.

City officials may choose to try to develop additional wells into the Ogalalla aquifer and to acquire additional water rights.

Or, they may choose to try to tap the deeper Santa Rosa formation for water.

Or, he said, they may choose eventually to try to buy some of the city's water from Amarillo.

City commissioners Monday night got the results from two test holes drilled into the Santa Rosa formation and it was good news and bad news.

The first test hole drilled about 200 feet east of the storage tank at the Umbarger field indicated good water from 650 to 780 feet and an estimated capacity of from 400-600 gallons per minute, engineering consultant Glen Sparkman said.

The other test hole drilled near a creek about 1½ miles west of the farm to market road indicated only 60 feet of water, from 510 to 570 feet.

A third test hole will be completed next week, Metcalf said.

The city's newest wells, drilled this summer, are producing about 420 gallons per minute, Sparkman said.

The water level is dropping three or four feet a year at the well field, he said.

The city is in the first year of a five year water development plan. Water rates were raised last March to give the city more revenue to work with.

The two wells, costing about $120,000, took the major share of the money planned for this year.

A new booster pump at the pump station is needed, Metcalf said, as well as a pump at the well field to increase water pressure.

Monday, Bryan labeled water as the city's number one priority and suggested that the commissioners and engineers determine soon the potential of the Santa Rosa water.

Cities already using Santa Rosa water include Happy and Hereford.

Canyon so lucky, says police chief

Canyon Police Chief Al Stewart was glad to get back to Texas after attending the Police Chief's Association convention in Miami Beach last week.

"We've got it lucky here," he said, "People don't realize."

Stewart said in listening to the heads of other police departments across the country discuss negotiations with labor unions, strikes, and other problems, he realized that Canyon was unusual in its absence of trouble.

Chiefs from four neighboring towns in Connecticut were presently negotiating with the policemens' chapter of the Teamsters Union for new contracts, Stewart said.

And while they were meeting, policemen in two cities went on strike, he said.

Canyon is blessed with a low incidence of crime, he said, even though the crime rate here is rising.

"As long as we keep the violent crimes down, we're still fortunate," Stewart said.

Statistically, crime here has increased 52 percent in the last year, but the figures don't reflect a true picture of crime here since the numbers of incidences are so small, he said.

There have been no murders, homicides, or armed robberies within the city in years. Two rapes have been reported here

Park to cost total $376,700

City commissioners approved the plan to develop Southeast Park over a six year period with a total cost of $376,700.

As soon as the environmental study is complete, the application for funding the first phase over the next two years will be submitted to Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, city administrative assistant Kevin Evans explained.

If the grant is approved, the city expects to spend a total of $125,650 over the next two years. Half of the total, or about $62,000 will have to be matched by local funds if the grant is approved.

The first phase of development will include the road to the baseball diamonds, a playground, three unlighted tennis courts, a field for football practice and two practice diamonds, the rest room and concession stands.

The second phase will complete the road around the lake to the bridge, and construct a large picnic pavillion and croquet and shuffleboard courts. Planned cost is $123,100.

In the third phase, estimated at $128,050, the road will be completed around the entire park, the bridge across the lagoon will be built and a bike path will be paved around the lagoon.

A fourth phase is contemplated to add lighting to the tennis courts and ball diamond and street lights around the park, Evans said.

Word is expected on the grant by next March.

Eagles gird for fight with tough Palo Duro

The Canyon High School football team, which is now 3-2 for the season, will face their stiffest test of the year to date when the Eagles meet Amarillo Palo Duro at 7:30 p.m. this Friday in Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

"This is going to be our toughest football game of the year so far," said Coach Deane Wright. "I would say they are the best football team in Amarillo."

The Dons are 4-0-1 for the year. They have played one common opponent with Canyon and that is Hereford which beat the Eagles 20-15. "They played Hereford and I don't know what the exact score is but they beat Hereford and beat them badly."

Wright then goes on and describes Palo Duro like they were something spotted over Mount Olympus.

"Palo Duro is a big strong team. They have a center who weighs 240 pounds and is about 6-4, they have a big fullback who is about 205 pounds, and they have a quarterback who will be starting his third year for them. This kid was with them when they went all the way to the finals two years ago and were beat by one of the teams out of Dallas. He was the starter then and he is an excellent quarterback. He throws the ball well and never loses his cool. They have a good offense.

"Their defense is tremendous. They have not lost a game this year. They have continuously improved with each week and continually gotten better. We are going to have our hands full this week."

Wright expects his team to see a lot of offense from the Dons.

"They run out of the eye with a lot of reverses and things. They have a slot and they also have twin sets with two wide receivers. They have a lot of throwing and a good running game with their fullback."

Canyon's offense is averaging 14 points and 260.2 total yards so far this season.

"We're going to try and improve on what we have been doing this week," said Wright. "We are not going to do anything different.

"We'll add a few wrinkles I guess. Our blocking schemes will be a little bit different but

County wheat situation "dire"

By BEVERLY McCARLEY

Last Thursday, Congressman Jack Hightower, sent a telegram to President Ford urging that he take action on a letter he and 17 other Congressmen had sent to him three weeks earlier requesting assistance for the nation's wheat producers.

The telegram sent to the President contained the signatures of Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen and 27 members of the House, including 19 Democrats and eight Republicans.

In the telegram Hightower said that the wheat market was "far below the cost of production, 40 percent below prices of a year ago and only three cents above the loan level recommended in the Emergency Farm Bill you vetoed last year."

The Congressman told the President that the White House Congressional Liaison Office had responded to his letter by saying that his request would be called to the personal attention of the President and his agricultural policy advisers and that it would be carefully considered.

The remainder of the telegram explained that farmers, grain elevator operators and bankers had expressed a single message to the offices of the congressmen and representatives — the situation

More tax money on its way home

Over $2.5 million dollars in federal revenue sharing funds will be distributed to local governments within Randall County over the next three and three-quarters years.

The $2,512,679 is the estimated total for appropriations to Randall County government, the cities of Canyon and Lake Tanglewood and the portion of Amarillo that lies in Randall County, a spokesman for the Office of Revenue Sharing in Washington said Tuesday.

The new bill was passed in the last days of the Congressional session and was signed last week by President Ford. It extends revenue sharing for three and three-quarters years beyond the December cut-off for the present program.

Of the funds, Randall County government is expected to receive $397,194 during the total period of the bill.

Canyon will get an estimated $375,023 during that time and Lake Tanglewood will be allotted about $3,482. Happy is to get an estimated $1,920.

Amarillo will receive $1,735,060 during the period.

The new bill differs from the present one in a number of ways.

The eight classifications for the use of revenue sharing funds have been eliminated, said Tom Adams in the Texas Governor's office in Washington.

Local governments will be able to use revenue sharing funds just like local funds, he said.

Under the new bill, revenue sharing money can be used to match federal grants, a use that is prohibited in the present bill, Adams said.

The requirements for non-discrimination in use and for citizen participation in deciding the use for revenue sharing has been strengthened.

A requirement in the bill before the Senate-House conference that might have eliminated Randall County from funding got dropped in conference.

Carroll Wilson, administrative assistant to the commissioners court here, was concerned about a provision that limited the funds to governments providing two municipal type services. A strict interpretation of municipal type services could have cut the county out of funds all together, Wilson said.

Funds from the present revenue sharing program have been used to build the city complex and the Randall County courthouse annex in Amarillo.

The funding in the first nine months of the bill will total $4.91 billion.

Then in the next three years, the program will vary from a floor of $6.65 billion to $6.85 billion a year, with the $200,000 difference being tied to a formula within the federal income tax collection, Adams explained.

Dike gives ducks a home

The water caught behind the dike at the south end of Buffalo Lake has already attracted about 2,000 ducks for the winter.

Larry Winn, of the Fish and Wildlife Commission, estimated that the lake now holds about 900 acre feet.

Many varieties of ducks are arriving, Winn said, but so far no geese have been spotted.

Before the lake was drained, more than a million ducks and 80,000 geese wintered at the lake.

Last year there was no water at all in the lake and the wildlife scattered to other smaller ponds and lakes in the area, Winn said.

Buffalo Lake is included in a bill President Gerald Ford has proposed entitled the Bicentennial Land Heritage Act. No congressional action has taken place, however.

If the bill passes, Buffalo Lake could get $1.8 million.

Grant funds still available

Grants to finance research projects this fall are still available, WTSU director of research Dr. David L. Wheeler said this week.

The money, some $20,397.65, was not alloted last spring when grant money is usually awarded, Wheeler said.

He expects to award the money for additional projects within a month, but, he said, the decision on the fate of the Organized Research Committee may influence the timetable.

A decision on the ORC is expected soon. Wheeler has recommended abolishment of the committee, which he contends duplicates the functions of the Killgore Research committee.

The Faculty Council recently recommended the ORC be retained as an advisory committee to give the faculty greater say in the awarding of grants.

The decision will be made by the long-range planning committee, headed by Dr. Ray Malzahn. A meeting date has not been set but Malzahn is compiling agenda items now and expects a meeting to be held soon.

If the ORC is abolished, Wheeler said the grants would probably be awarded faster.

County commissioners Monday did this:

— Rescinded a motion to buy two sheriff's cars in coordination with Amarillo purchases and authorized advertisements of bids for the cars.

— Tabled a request to close a road in the northern part of the county.

— Heard report from assistant district attorney Rick Wilcox that ambulance contract was ready to sign: Kids, Inc. contract was ready to review and that the air conditioning contract for the Annex had not been started.

— Approved two resolutions asking for an increase in fees charged for services by the court clerk and other county officials.

— Tabled a resolution supporting the passage of the Bicentennial Land Heritage Act, which would allot $1.8 million to Buffalo Lake.

— Authorized a bid for fire extinguishers bought either with Amarillo or separately.

CHS seniors commended for ranking in the top two percent in the competitive merit scholarship exams are Drew Williams, Janice Williams and Jonathan Hull.

Top students are praised

Three Canyon High seniors were commended by the Merit Scholarship administrators for ranking among the top two percent on the nation-wide competitive exam.

Jonathan Hull, Drew Williams and Janice Williams were notified last week of the honor.

While they will not compete any further for the Merit Scholarships, their names will be sent to colleges and universities for other possible scholarships.

The CHS students have already made plans for college. Hull, who is the son of Mrs. T. G. Hull, Jr., plans to attend the University of Texas to study law.

Janice Williams' plans are still tentative, she said. She will probably go to Texas Tech but she has not decided on a major field. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Williams.

Drew Williams expects to go to Texas A&M to major in either electrical or chemical engineering. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams.

County may build its own part of Loop 335

County commissioners proposed Monday to build their own road to get the south portion of Loop 335 around Amarillo started.

"I think we've got to do something or otherwise we're going to be sitting here ten years from now looking at all the industry up on the north loop," said commissioner John Fulgenzi.

Fulgenzi had introduced the idea by asking if the county could acquire right-of-way and construct a service road to connect Hollywood at Washington to Osage and eventually to Lakeside.

"I think that's the only way we are going to get that road is to make it a county road," commissioner Jim Fletcher said.

County road construction funds are committed for the present budget to build the new road along Sundown Lane servicing the new elementary school being built there.

But there are some remaining right-of-way funds, Judge Woody Pond said.

The commissioners tabled a request to close a road right-of-way within South Amarillo that has been under fence since 1931. The right-of-way lies roughly in an area that would be affected by an extension of SW 58th Street and was dedicated but never used as a street.

Commissioners asked the district attorney's office to advise on the legality of the request and delayed the matter also to check with Amarillo planning.

Joint purchases with Amarillo hit a snag on sheriff's patrol cars, administrative assistant Carroll Wilson reported. Specifications for the patrol cars did not meet the county's needs and, since Amarillo orders cars with police equipment installed, the vehicles were likely to be more expensive. The commissioners approved a motion to call for bids for two patrol cars with trade-ins.

They also authorized Wilson to buy fire extinguishers for the courthouse either jointly with Amarillo or separately. The cost was estimated at $500.

Robert O'Donald, president of the Farm Bureau, presented two petitions with more than 50 signatures and the $500 required by law to request a hearing for a noxious weed district.

Despite dire warnings from Fletcher, the commissioners set a hearing date Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. in the district courtroom.

"This is a tremendous undertaking," Fletcher said. "We should all be aware of the possible lawsuits against the county, neighbor against neighbor. This is going to kill some cotton. It's going to kill some flowers, some home gardens."

O'Donald said that the primary chemical used against bindweed, 2-4-D, is already widely used in the county.

"But not to the extent that it will be used," Fletcher said.

"Anytime you use aerial ,application you're going to be open to this but many of the chemicals can be used effectively with ground applications", O'Donald said.

An estimated 1100 farmers with 330,000 acres under cultivation in Randall County will be affected. The proposed district would encompass all of the county except the property within city limits, towns or state parks.

The commissioners approved two resolutions calling for an increase in fees charged by county officials for services. The resolutions will be sent to Panhandle, West Texas and Texas Judges' Associations and to legislative leaders.

The commissioners delayed a decision on supporting a federal bill that would mean some $1.8 million for Buffalo Lake.

Fulgenzi said the Bicentennial Land Heritage Act proposed last month by President Gerald Ford sounded like a pork barrel to him.

"We would just be wasting $1.8 million," he said. "If every city and county and state would just exercise restraint."

They tabled decision on support until next Monday.

Near the end of the meeting, the commissioners heard a heated protest by former trucker Robert Sessler, who charged that highway patrols operating within the county were enforcing the weight laws unfairly.

The unfair enforcement was a conspiracy to protect the large truckers and contractors, Sessler said.

He complained that he had been given a traffic ticket in June, 1975 and then after signing the citation, he was arrested again and brought to jail. This was an illegal arrest, Sessler contended.

He said he had complained to Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson, to District Attorney Randall Sherrod, to Sheriff Cliff Longest, and to district judges, the state attorney general and finally to the governor.

He had given specific information of overweight trucks operating within the county on 14 different occasions, Sessler said, and they were not investigated.

One deputy sheriff told him if he wanted the law enforced to enforce it himself, Sessler reported.

Sherrod told the commissioners that he had spent about 12 hours investigating Sessler's complaint and had taken the matter before the grand jury, who found no cause for further action.

Among other things, Sherrod said that records showed that other truckers and construction firms were getting as many overweight citations as anyone.

After considerable time, in which heated exchanges were made between Sessler and Judge Wilson, Sessler and Sherrod and Sessler and commissioners, the court finally asked what he wanted them to do.

"You can either investigate this and do the right thing, or you can face a lawsuit," Sessler replied. "I really don't care which. But I'll sue you for everything you've got."

In other business, the commissioners accepted the resignation of Carroll Wilson as administrative assistant, effective Oct. 15, approved travel pay to the state fair for assistant agriculture agent Paul Sammons and approved the hiring of a new dispatcher for the sheriff's office, Robert C. Alexander.

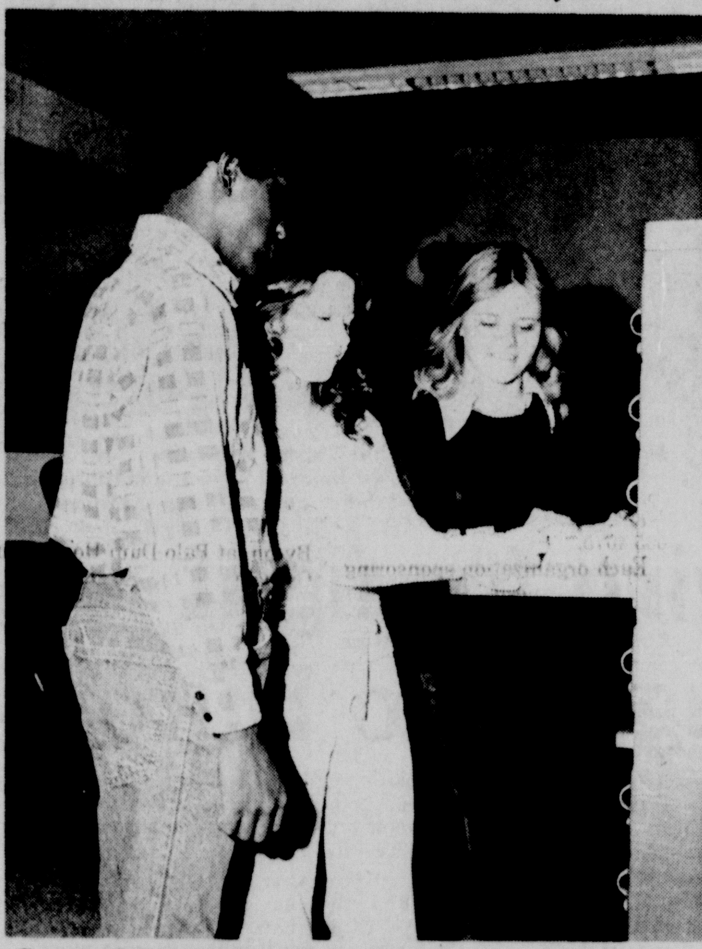
Duck deaths occur

Several hundred ducks have been killed this fall by botulism from ingested bacteria, said Max Traweek, assistant waterfowl biologist.

The same type of botulism occurred last year on lakes with exposed mud flats, he said.

The toxins are not harmful to humans, Traweek said.

Affected ducks have been found in Castro, Palmer and Hartley counties. Landowners, birdwatchers and sportsmen are asked to report sick or dead ducks to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department or to state game warden. Traweek can be reached at 655-3631 in Canyon.



Canyon Junior High student council members Jeff McKay, president; Kim Wilkinson; and Melanie Brooks, vice president look through the card catalogue. The student council will use money from a bake sale to aid the library.

Women to compete at Baylor

The West Texas State women's softball team will compete in the Baylor Tournament this weekend in Waco. It will be the final appearance of the Buffs unless they get invited to the TAIAW Tournament in Nacogdoches on Oct. 14-16.

WT is coming off a slugfest with Texas Tech Monday night. WT defeated the Red Raiders 18-11 behind the hitting of Debbie Webb and the pitching of Belinda Whitson.

Last weekend, the Buffs had troubles at the Texas A&M Tournament. WT lost to Texas A&M in the opening game 10-0, then lost to Stephen F. Austin 4-1. The Buffs defeated St. Mary's 24-0 for their only victory.

Kim Ratliff, coach of the 7-6 Buffs, is looking forward to this weekend's tournament in Waco.

"This is going to be a really tough tournament," Ratliff said. "I think if we continue to hit the ball like we did against Texas Tech, we should be able to do quite well. Against Tech, we were able to keep the ball on the ground instead of popping-up as we had been.

"There are going to be several very good teams in this tournament," she continued. "Teams such as Texas-Arlington, Baylor, Angelo State, Texas Woman's University, and North Texas State will be competing. It could be a very long weekend."

Cross country team to run at ENMU

The West Texas State University cross country team, which placed second in the Lubbock Christian College Invitational last week, will run at the Eastern New Mexico Invitational this Friday.

"We are going to be running against junior colleges in this meet because it is an open meet," said Coach Bob Kitchens.

"I expect the competition to come from New Mexico Junior College. They have a fairly well balanced team. Eastern New Mexico will have a great individual runner in John Kebro, who won the Oklahoma State Invitational last week-end.

"This will be our first five mile course of the year and we have had two good weeks of workout and we expect to run very well.

"We have had a continual success in workouts and expect success in the meets.

"The factor this week will be if we are mentally tough and hang together. I think it is going to be how well we want it. There is going to come a pain barrier and the pain barrier is going to have to be crossed. And when we cross that bridge we are going to be going."

Man charged after chase

An Amarillo man was arrested for multiple traffic violations early Saturday morning after a high-speed chase from the Hereford highway to Washington Street.

A Canyon policeman using radar clocked the man driving 75 in a 55 mph zone about 2 a.m. Saturday. The policeman drove behind him signaling him to stop, according to the report, but, instead, the motorist increased his speed to more than 100 mph, forcing several vehicles off the road.

The fleeing driver turned east on McCormick and then north on Washington. He was stopped by a roadblock of Amarillo policemen.

The 20-year-old man was charged with misdemeanors that included two charges of speeding, illegal changing of lanes, and evading arrest.

J. T. HENRY won the bull riding, and split third and fourth place in bareback riding; Eddie Joe Pearson won the steer wrestling; and Ronnie McDonald won third in calf roping in the Wheeler Tri State High School Rodeo last week-end.

The boys were runners up for the team trophy this week.

Sponsors who accompanied the group were Bob and Linda McDonald, Wayne and Billie Pearson, and Betty and Floyd Tipps.

There are now fifty four Tri State High School Rodeo Clubs. Over four hundred thirty five 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th grade students are paid up members. One hundred sponsors are registered. Rodeo is fast becoming a most popular organized sport.

The Borger Tri State High School Rodeo is this week-end.

Saturday evening.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. Foster Parker and Brenda and Debbie attended Cathy's presentation at Texas Tech on Sunday evening. Cathy Parker was escorted by her father.

* * *

KEN HENRY WAS home on Monday afternoon. He also ate dinner at Al's on Thursday of last week. If I'd been expecting him, I'd have missed the workshop.

RANDALL COUNTY HOME Demonstration Club Council sponsored several workshops at the Farm Bureau building last Thursday. Mrs. John (Judy) McNeill taught macrame; Mrs. John (Lucille) Robinson taught liquid embroidery; Mrs. Edward (Frances) Flaherty taught rock art; Bynum Morris taught rug making; and Mrs. Paul Corona taught bread dough art.

I intended to sit through a little of all of it. But I barely finished the macrame. The workshop was an excellent one. That bread dough art really got artistic. I didn't realize that it was more than baskets, etc.

Bynum Morris tells me that he is Mrs. Dan's grandson. He is giving the program today at the Sunnyhill Home Demonstration Club meeting at Mrs. Cecil Dougherty's home.

SEVERAL AREA PEOPLE attended the OS roping at Post last week-end. (Some of them even come to their home town roping. Comparisons of times show that Happy has the better roping.)

Olin Young of Peralta, N. M. won the steer roping by tying down four steers in 76.56 seconds. Phil Lyne of South Texas (used to be George West) came in second with 77.84. Eldon Dudley of Perryton was third with 81.39 seconds. John Miller was fourth with 82.51 seconds.

Roy Thompson won a second in a go-round to bring home $1,500.

Butch Bode of Brenham won the calf roping with a time of 37.61 seconds on three head. Kyle Ditto of Stephenville won second with 40.08. Jim Fuller, formerly of Stephenville, won third with 40.73. Ronnie Seawalt of Chico won fourth with 41.63.

Vicki Henry won the barrel race.

HAPPY COWBOYS DROPPED another ballgame, this time to Sudan 41-0. Sudan had a complete senior team listed in the program with three juniors and one sophomore. They are ranked among the top ten in class B schools.

Happy Wranglers lost their game to Silverton Junior High 20 to 8. Silverton included ninth grade on their junior high team which Happy is unable to do. Our freshmen play with the varsity team. Keep truckin' Cowboys!

HAPPY COMMUNITY 4-H held an installation banquet on Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Happy Jaycee Hall. Neal Odom was installed as president by retiring president Brenda Parker.

Other officers installed during the evening were: 1st vice president, Debbie Parker; 3rd vice president, David McDonald; 4th vice president, Kyle Odom; 5th vice president, Clay Simons; 6th vice president and publicity chairman, Kevin Odom; recording secretary, Laurie Fellers; corresponding secretary, Angella Parker and Vickie Jones; treasurer, Christi McCaslin; reporter, Todd Bryan; parliamentarian, Nancy Woods; historian, LaRae Sims; photographer, Tim Parker; sargeant at arms, Angelique Henry and Chad Boman; and council representatives, Pearl Perez and Russell Boman; and sentinel, Dennis Bryan.

Shaun Heil was introduced as a new member.

Interested members signed up for Foods, Arts and Crafts.

THE HAPPY ARTISTS Club installed their new officers after a pot luck supper held in the Gwen McFarland home in the Arney community, last Monday evening.

New officers are president, Mary Catherine Moudy; vice president, Carolyn Kimbrell; secretary, Edna Foster; and treasurer, Joy Cox.

Present for the evening were Joy Cox, Mary Womack, Kathy and Alvin Moudy, Phyla and Foster Harman, Ollie and Mark Nichols, Edna Foster, Hermion and Dudley McNeill, Letha Fullerton, Leona Henry, Gay Fellers, Jackie and Delbert Newman, Carolyn and Don Kimbrell, and the host and hostess, Gwen and Helene McFarland.

The club plans to have an exhibit in Canyon beginning Oct. 25th.

The club also plans to begin teaching art to the first, second, and third grade classes of the Happy Elementary School.

AN "EMPTY BOWL Seminar" has been announced to be held in Abilene next Sunday. Anyone promoting skipping meals and meatless meals is grossly misguided and ignorant of many facts.

First of all, you are taking money out of the economy instead of helping anyone. Secondly, brain is made from protein and animal protein in healthy bodies cannot be duplicated by any other product.

Therefore, I believe such movements to be communistic. It is a subject I love to debate. Call me. Or come to see me!

AND HAVE A good day!

NOW IS THE BEST TIME IN 200 YEARS FOR YOU TO BUY A HOME

A Message for the future — not the past

1. Improvement and advancement in building products.
2. Cooperation of lending institutions very good.
3. An investment opportunity—to build equity and yield valuable tax deductions.
4. More people have gained financial independence through home ownership than any other way. Principal and interest payments remain the same for full term of mortgage; rents go up as cost of living increases.
5. Homeowning families are happier, they have a stronger feeling of belonging to their community, as well as pride of possession and security.

Deadline near for producers using emergency aid program

The last chance is approaching for livestock producers facing financial problems to take advantage of the Emergency Livestock Credit Act of 1974, a temporary Farmers Home Administration program.

Now two years old, the Act provides for emergency financial help to the producer whose business has a good chance of success if it can survive the current liquidity crisis.

"The revised Act now in effect has changes to make it more palatable to both the borrower and lender," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, project leader in farm management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Some of the conditions are as follows:

1. A "line of credit" is permitted, whereas the original Act permitted only a single loan.

2. Anyone with a "substantial operation" in breeding, raising, fattening or marketing is eligible. (This includes one who devotes at least 25 per cent of his time to, derives at least 25 per cent of his income from, or has at least 25 per cent of his capital invested in livestock operation).

3. The Act terminates on Dec. 31, 1976.

4. The loan period can be up to seven years, with possible renewal for three years.

5. The guarantee by the Farmers Home Administration is increased from 80 per cent of the loss to 90 per cent of the loan principal and interest.

6. The line of credit has been increased from the previous $250,000 to $350,000 per loan.

7. Secondary financing of the guaranteed portion of loans may now be made by the Federal Financing Bank, thus increasing the marketability of the securities to the lender.

8. The total authorization under the Act was reduced from $2 billion to $1.5 billion.

Many cattlemen can use this type of financing due to present economic conditions, contends the economist. Therefore, the Emergency Livestock Credit Act should help them protect their operations from financial disaster in the coming months.

Hayenga advises stockmen to contact their local Farmers Home Administration office or their lender for particular details. This must be done before the Act expires on Dec. 31.

Game benefits Heart Fund

Ron Laver and John Newcombe will play a singles and doubles tennis match for the Heart Fund on Nov. 8 at the Amarillo Civic Center.

Winners of a men's singles tournament held this month will appear with the two pros in the doubles match. Then Laver and Newcombe will give a singles exhibition match.

Before the match, they will hold a tennis clinic at the T-Bar-M Racquet Club. All proceeds from the tournament and the exhibition will go to the Heart Fund. Tickets are $6, $10 and $20.

Tax savings on exemptions

A recent Texas Supreme Court decision could save part-time farmers and ranchers many tax dollars, according to an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The court held that farmers and ranchers may qualify for agricultural tax exemptions on farm real estate even though they earn more than half their income from other sources. This ruling will help farm and ranch owners who get incomes from a variety of sources, such as business investments, royalty payments and other jobs, but who spend a majority of their time on the farm or ranch.

Magazine Sales begin

Canyon High juniors opened their annual magazine sale this week with a new twist.

For the first time, phonograph records will be offered.

The sale is held every fall by the junior class to finance the junior-senior prom in the spring and their senior gift to the school next year.

this year, the first in many years.

While violent crimes did decrease slightly nationally, the incidence in other parts of the country is quite high, Stewart said.

"Unless it makes the national news, we don't get a true picture of what's going on in the rest of the country," he said.

Texas is so big that it is difficult for police chiefs to meet regularly and learn what is happening throughout the state, Stewart said. The Panhandle police chiefs are somewhat more familiar with the events in areas other than their own, but even here, because of the distances between cities, it is difficult to form a strong association.

Wheat. . .

is desperate. "Many bankers from agricultural areas have told us that their outstanding loans, primarily to farmers and ranchers, represent 75 percent of their total deposits. They can make no further loans. With anticipated losses facing wheat farmers, a high percentage of these loans must be carried over into next year. Financing for production of next year's crops is unavailable now and there is no assurance of any improvement. Rural communities can expect a reduction of at least 25 percent in total income, which trickles down to every sector of that area's economy.

"Desperate situations require immediate action, Mr. President, and you can provide it. We respectfully urge you to instruct Secretary Butz to adjust the loan level to at least $2.50. This will enable farmers to finance next year's crops and will assure lower food costs to the nation's consumers."

Randall County Agricultural Agent, Bob Robinson said that he believed that a $2.50 loan level would be an asset to farmers and would take the pressure off bankers.

"Locally, the wheat situation is a very dire situation," said Robinson. He said that especially in the South and Southwestern part of the county, the drouth over the past 12 to 14 months, the increase in gas and farm equipment has made it almost impossible for farmers to break even, even at a $3.00 loan level.

Robinson explained that many farmers will or have sold their crops at a loss in order to borrow enough to farm next year. Most farmers operate on borrowed money and bankers cannot continue to meet the capitol demands of all farmers.

There is a tremendous surplus of wheat, according to Robinson, which must be sold as exports. He attributes the abundance of wheat to the 1972 program which took away crop limits and the government encouraging farmers to plant "fence row to fence row."

Robinson said, "I doubt that any agricultural crop or livestock is making a reasonable profit in Randall County today. . . When one part of agriculture suffers, every part suffers."

Bill Nelson, executive secretary of the Texas Wheat Producers Association in Amarillo, said that the action asked for by Congressman Hightower was badly needed.

Nelson explained that, in vetoing the Emergency Farm Bill on May 1, 1975, the President stated that if there were unforeseen decreased in wheat prices, he would direct the secretary of agriculture to increase the price . . . but the President has not acted.

Nelson said that farmers are holding more than half of the wheat crops because prices are at a minimum. He said that the higher loan level would not immediately increase the price of wheat but would allow farmers to pay back loans while still in good credit with their banks.

Nelson said that the impact of the wheat situation is obvious in the fact that the telegram sent to the President was a bi-partisan endeavor.

Local farmer, George Cox feels that the proposed loan level of $2.50 is needed for the farmer to at least break even. He said that farmers are used to holding their wheat after harvest in hopes the price will go up, but the price has been falling.

Cox said that the concept of contracting wheat crops — selling in advance — is a very new idea and most farmers do not understand it. He said that older farmers are used to constants and machinery costs have tripled and seed prices have doubled while the price of wheat has stayed the same.

Douglas Williams, instructor in Ag-Economics at WTSU, said that governmental loan level setting is alright for a short term. But, he said, long term control by the government is no good because the loan level will continue to rise at the request of farmers.

Williams agrees that farmers need relief now because prices are too low. He said that Earl Butz's 1972 program of free enterprise had many interruptions such as the Nixon price freeze on beef and the stop on export of grain. He said that bureaucracy stops free enterprises.

Local sources seem to uphold the action by the Congressman in requesting aid from President Ford on the wheat situation. The local situation is in need of aid, they say.

Eagles. . .

basically we will be the same as we have been.

"I think we should be better if we get Cliff Adams back. If he is back we will be better in the line. If he is not back then we are going to have the same problems we had last week."

At the helm this week again will be quarterback Ricky Cooper who has completed 22 of 60 passes this year for 373 yards.

Joining Cooper in the backfield will be Gary Ward, who has rushed for 353 yards on 65 carries to date, Joe Luquette, who has totalled 151 yards on 26 tries and John Hull, who has gained 130 yards in 34 carries.

Also expected to see action in the backfield are David McKay, who has gained 174 yards on 33 carries this year and Robert Scott who has totalled 104 yards on 18 carries.

The Eagles passing game will be hindered once more this week with the absence of John Pratter, the Eagles big tight end, who has caught 4 passes for 84 yards in two games this season.

Matt Madewell has caught 3 Cooper passes for 77 yards and Ward and Luquette, in addition to their running, have caught 7 passes for 140 yards and 4 passes for 31 yards respectively.

Defensively the Eagles have allowed opponents an average of 12.4 points and 211 total yards per contest.

consultant, told the commissioners that one of the two test holes for water into the Santa Rosa formation looked promising. The second hole indicated only 60 feet of good water, he said.

The city's latest two wells, drilled this summer in the Umbarger field, are pumping about 420 gallons a minute, Sparkman said.

Canyon's fire department training school is now larger than 50 percent of the schools in the nation, Fire Chief Jack Jennings and Assistant Chief Joe Rice reported to the commissioners.

This year, there were 567 students participating from 49 cities including Austin, Abilene, Wichita Falls and College Station.

For training, they burned 1,200 gallons of donated propane, 6,000 gallons of fuel oil collected over the year, and 300 gallons of gasoline. They also used 54 pieces of breathing apparatus and 3,700 feet of fire hose.

A new course in ladder techniques was added to the school this year.

"That's a dry subject no matter how it's presented so it is neglected by fire departments," Rice said. The class was well received, he said.

A breathing apparatus course was improved this year by a four-room house donated by the school board when a lot was cleared for tennis courts.

The house is filled with non-toxic smoke and provides a realistic training ground, Rice said.

Rice also gave statistics for the first seven months of the year on fire calls in the county.

Canyon answered 94 calls from Jan. 1 through July 31. Of these, they were assisted by Amarillo 29 times.

Happy had 17 fire calls, Umbarger had 12, Bushland 1 and Lake Tanglewood 5 for a total of

Simple surgery not so simple

By
JO FULKERSON

APOLOGIES TO THOSE who have watched for this column lately and have not seen it appear.

What have I been doing instead? Any number of things — important or not, it seems that the last of those summer vegetables needed to be canned, that visit with the relatives had to be made, etc. I'm sorry.

WE ARE SO pleased that Dudley Collins has returned from Houston, recuperated to the point that he is back in school and seems to be doing real good.

However, Mother Elaine Collins was not so fortunate. She had accompanied Dudley to Houston and while there developed severe tonsilitis and she was operated on not once, but twice while there from complications arising from this tonsilitis. She was in the hospital 26 days and couldn't eat for many of these days. She lost almost 50 lbs. and came home quite weak and will have to be quite careful to build herself back up the next few weeks and months.

Husband, Jack, and sons, Dudley and Dwayne, are going to see to that. Welcome Home Collins family.

* * *

MRS. C. W. McQueary paid a short visit with the Mike McQuearys and all the rest of the McQueary family here at Siesta recently. She was accompanied by Lou Ann Altazer, Mike's sister, on her way to their Mineral Wells, Texas, permanent home, and then to return to their temporary home in Italy. They will perhaps be on their way shortly to Libya, Africa, for one year.

* * *

SYMPATHIES ARE EXTENDED to Mrs. Daniel Hollifield because of the death of her brother, Albert Smith, of Ohio. Sylvia flew to the funeral to be with the family.

About the same time Dan learned that his mother was being hospitalized for eye surgery. Everything seems to be back to normal at this household again.

CONGRATULATIONS TO ROYCE and Doris McKee on the acquisition of their new home in the Siesta Subdivision.

Doris said she has managed a path through, but there is a lot more settling-in to do before she is completely happy with the move. The new home has lots more room, many more conveniences and she is just plain thrilled. Of course she is, and we are proud of it for her.

MR. AND MRS. Joe Carlton, 109 Siesta Lane, were participants in a family get-together at the Palo Duro Canyon Sunday, Oct. 3.

The Joe Wards, the Tetty family, Ann Hulls, and the Joe Carltons were among others who gathered from around Pampa and the New Mexico area to be together that day. Mrs. Carlton said that the wind was merciful most of the afternoon, but sort of gusty at times. The sun was out and the day was very nice, however.

By the way, I saw Oleta sitting on her patio the other day working on her bicentennial afghan. She brought it up to the office to show me and several other ladies. It was beautiful. This is the second time that I have seen her work and each has been as pretty as the other.

EDWARD REED, FROM Bedias, Texas, visited with Pat and Tex Reed for about two weeks recently. Pat said they ate out once in a while and did other fun things while he was here.

By the way, Pat, along with Pearl West and Mrs. H. A. Stancil, plan a trip to Perryton Tuesday, Oct. 5, just to have lunch at the country club, and have a short visit with friends. Sounds like fun.

In a way, I envy Mrs. Stancil. I have heard of days with Pat and Pearl and I guarantee you, you'd never experience a dull moment.

* * *

TOM AND GARY Fulkerson just returned a few days ago from visiting with family in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas. They thoroughly enjoyed the drive down and back and said the weather there was very nice, although it was rather humid.

Since Gary had been in Germany for two years, he had not seen his grandparents in that length of time, and got to see both "sets".

I FEEL LIKE a good luck charm occasionally. By that remark, I mean we went to watch West Texas State soccer team play a New Mexico team. West Texas won their first game of the season 3-1. This was a week-end ago.

Ken Weber and wife, Jeri (our son-in-law and daughter) parked the Janna Baby with us and went to Dallas to help West Texas in their soccer game against a Dallas team and also to Fort Worth to play there. WT lost both games, but Ken said they were good games, and the fun and good company on the way down and back made the trip worthwhile. Wish they could have had another good luck charm with them. We are very proud of the team, anyway, and its player-coach, Dave.

WE ARE ALSO proud of CHS for their win last Friday night. Onward and upward, Eagles.

* * *

HAVE A REAL fine week, full of good neighborliness, and pass it on. Did you know that kindness is contageous?

Evans reveal birth of son

Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Evans of 828 S. Alabama, Amarillo announce the Sept. 30 birth of a son, Martin Dwayne, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby weighed 7 pounds, 6¼ ounces and measured 20 inches at birth. His father is employed in road construction.

Dusting an antique crock previous to the Harvest Home Tour is Janet Craig, whose home ten miles south of Canyon, will be included on the Harvest Home Tour. The crock is originally from Wheeling, West Virginia.

Craig's country home on tour

The gracious country home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Craig will be among those opened for visitors next Sunday afternoon, Oct. 10, during the University Study Club's annual Harvest Home Tour.

Located ten miles South of Canyon and approximately ¼ mile west at Ralph Switch, the Craig home will be open from 2-6 p.m. during the tour. Local and area residents are invited to participate in the guided tour of four local homes and may purchase tour tickets at $1 per person at any of the homes.

The tour tickets entitle home tour participants to visit each of the four homes on the tour that afternoon. In addition to the Craig home, south of the city, other local homes included on the tour will be the Elton Cox home at 1411 Creekmere, the Bill Piehl home at #25 Country Club Drive and the Edwin Low home at 3302 Linda Lane.

A "kitchen" filled with baked goods, gift items and various crafts will also be open during the home tour at the Cox home, 1411 Creekmere. The "country kitchen" will be the second such effort by the federated clubwomen.

Funds raised by the overall project will go to help numerous community benefits according to general home tour chairman, Annette Lippold. Special project to receive aid from the funds this year will be the heart monitor being sought for Palo Duro Hospital.

History will surround home tour guests as they arrive at the Craig home, south of the city. The home, moved to its present site in 1903, was built by Jimmy Craig's grandparents and underwent a partial remodelling in 1951.

In 1975, Jimmy Craig, who is in the cattle business, and his wife, the former Janet Wheeler, undertook a major remodelling of the home. The remodelling included the installation of a new foundation and a move of the original house some 20 feet to the south in order to build on a large utility room and retain two seventy year old trees at the homesite.

The Craigs, who have lived in the house since 1970, did a majority of the recent home remodelling themselves. They have a daughter, Cindy, 16, who is a sophomore student at Happy High School and an 18 month old son, John Ross.

Surrounded by an expansive lawn of green grass and shaded by tall trees, the Craig home features outdoor balconies on the West and South sides.

The interior captures the spacious outdoor feel with grass green carpeting throughout and fresh lime green and gold accents in the all white kitchen area. A feel of fresh country air is further enhanced with picture windows in most rooms of the home. The windows were specially built for the home during the remodelling phase and have been kept open and free with sheer curtains.

The winding staircase and overhead balcony railings lend a graciousness to the Craig home which is further enhanced by the Cathedral ceiling in the living room. The expansiveness of the living room is complemented with a grouping of five chandeliers and an antique styled fireplace.

Adjacent the living room is the dining area, kitchen and utility room which feature snow white cabinetry and lime green countertops. Flooring tile in the kitchen picks up the lime green color scheme with highlights of gold.

The three bedroom home is decorated with original paintings by his mother, Opal Craig. Upstairs are two bedrooms with a bath and balcony study. The master bedroom, downstairs, has a spacious bath with corner dressing table and built-in display shelving.

Conducting tours at the Craig home will be a group of University Study Club members including Mary Ann Keeling, chairman, Shirley White, Wanda Damon, Margaret Tenorio and Ann Begert.

Buffs meet Cougars in Houston Astrodome

West Texas State University's Buffaloes, ever so close to an undefeated record, take a giant leap forward Saturday night when they meet the University of Houston Cougars in the Astrodome.

The Buffs, owners of a 1-2 record after their second straight narrow loss last week-end, will be meeting what must be one of the biggest surprise teams in the nation in the Cougars. In its first year of competition in the Southwest Conference, Houston has already beaten Baylor and Texas A&M to lead the league. UH was only 2-8 last year.

"I think they are an outstanding team," Buff coach Gene Mayfield understates. "In fact, they have an excellent chance to win the Southwest Conference. I guess that it is unfortunate that they have come up with such an outstanding team this year, from our point of view."

Houston does have some outstanding individuals. Fullback John Housman is already one of the top ten rushers in school history, defensive tackle Wilson Whitley is being touted for the Outland and Lombardi awards, and quarterback Danny Davis was the SWC's offensive player of the week for his three touchdown passes against A&M.

For the record, Houston beat Baylor 23-5 and Texas A&M 21-10, sandwiched around a 49-14 loss at Florida. West Texas opened its season with a 14-12 Valley win over Wichita State, but has sustained road losses at Southern Illinois (21-17) and U. T. Arlington (23-21) the past two weeks.

But in the UTA loss, the Buffs finally got their passing attack in gear, and it almost pulled out a big comeback win. Quarterback Tully Blanchard, bad-rapped throughout his career as a poor passer, hit on 11 of 22 attempts for 201 yards. Six of the completions for 120 yards went to sophomore split end Scott Wiley, and Blanchard hit flanker Bill Delaney for a 25-yard TD late in the game.

"Tully did have a very good night," Mayfield adds. "I think two passes were dropped and he purposely overthrew a couple more. I think it substantiates what I've been saying all along: Tully can throw the ball where it needs to be if we give him enough time."

The main problem with WTSU, however, is the one on defense. UTA gained 462 yards in total offense, and the Buffs will need major improvement to hold down the explosive Cougars.

"We've run out of personnel changes we could make," Mayfield says. "We've just got to get better with what we've got."

Following WT's visit to the 'Dome, the Buffs will host North Texas State at Kimbrough Stadium on Oct. 16. Houston will return to SWC action with an afternoon game at SMU.

WT's homecoming plans have begun

Preparations continue for West Texas State University's Homecoming celebrations Oct. 28-30.

An honor corps of four outstanding women associated with the university have been invited to serve as parade marshals for the Homecoming parade.

Escorted in a car driven by Dr. Lloyd Watkins, university president, the corps will lead the parade beginning at 10 a.m., Oct. 30.

Campus organizations entering the parade are Sigma Nu fraternity, Texas Nursing Students Association, El Chicano Club, Baptist Student Union, cheerleaders, Song Girls, Scribes Honor Society, Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Chi Omega sorority and the ROTC Color Guard.

Off-campus organizations will include the Caprock High School Marine Corps Junior ROTC, Will Rogers Range Riders, Booker High School Band, Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, Khiva Shrine Cycle Escort, Canyon High School Band, the Canyon Fire Department, Tascosa High School Navy Junior ROTC and McDonalds.

Other area parade entries are Diana's Dance Studio of Borger, Texas Panhandle Chapter of the Model A Ford Club, Canyon Noon Lions Club, Golden Spread Regional Group of Early V-8 Club of America and the Fort Sill, Okla. Color Guard.

Deadline for float entries will be Oct. 15. Three trophies will be awarded to the winning floats and the best overall float will be displayed at the stadium during the game. Interested organizations should contact Lt. Col. Charles Laakso at 656-3956.

Other activities also being developed are the bonfire on Oct. 28, the carnival on Oct. 29 and the barbecue preceding the Oct. 30 football game between the Buffs and McNeese State.

A Homecoming queen will be elected by WTSU students Oct. 26 and 27 and presented at the bonfire and during halftime ceremonies at the football game.

BSU has special events set for WT Homecoming

Baptist Student Union exes of West Texas State University will have several special activities occurring during Homecoming Week-end at the university this year.

Adding to the homecoming activities for BSU exes will be a coffee and doughnut get-together at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 30 in the Baptist Student Center and the 10 a.m. parade will be passing by the BSU building on Fourth Avenue.

BSU exes who wish to sit as a group at the homecoming game that afternoon may order tickets for the BSU section before Oct. 23. Tickets are $5 and should be arranged for through the BSU for the special section.

A BSU business meeting will be held following the game at 6 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Canyon. Exes will be discussing the interest in forming a BSU Alumni Association and Mike Miller, the BSU president from 1967-68, will chair the meeting.

A dinner for BSU exes will be served at 7:30 p.m. that evening at the Baptist Student Center with tickets costing $1. Entertainment for the dinner will include testimonies by both exes and present BSU students. For reservations and further information about BSU homecoming plans contact the BSU at 655-7705 or write the Alumni Activities Chairman: Beverly Jacobs, WT BSU, Box 815, WT Station, Canyon, Texas 79016.

FARRIS ANN MORRISON

HOPE YOU ALL enjoyed the long week-end.

I finally got caught up on everything and was put to work painting .... an airplane. If I could have had an overhaul like that when I was thirty; well, the 140 looks brand new and I'm glad I had a hand in the make-over. So went the week-end.

Fall fashions are discussed for TOPS club

Fall fashions and materials for the new fall season were presented by Randall County Extension Agent, Becky Hall, for a recent program at the TOPS 892 meeting.

In September a loss of 31½ pounds was recorded and "queen for the month" was Barbara Smith with a weight loss of 6¼ pounds.

Several members of the local TOPS club will be attending the Rally Day, Oct. 9, at Perryton. Planning to attend are Cathy Howard, Marlene McSpadden, Carol Sanford, Cindy Tallant and Kathy Pekrul.

Jerry Gerber and Carol Sanford will be entering the annual Greatest Improvement contest where judging is done primarily on before/after pictures and a story submitted by the contestants.

The morning TOPS club will be attending the Fun Night, Oct. 29, to be hosted by the Canyon night TOPS club. Twelve area clubs will be participating in the event.

The scope of the regional health program was explained for about 25 members of the Canyon branch of the American Association of University Women on Saturday.

A brief business meeting was conducted by the president, Maxine Sherrod, during which a $100 scholarship was approved for presentation to Mrs. Gary Fletcher, a nursing department student at West Texas State University.
